POOR BATTING AND PIELDING

Errors on the Part of the Local Team Gave Princeton a Hollow Victory-Harley Made a Poor Exhibition at Short Field-Profes-

A skurry of snow did not stop the ball game at Capitol park yesterday afternoon between Georgetown and Princeton, the latter again coming off victorious. Bad fielding and poor batting proved a losing combination for the local boys, who if anything played worse than on Saturday. Dick Harley seemed out of place at short field and his errors were many and costly. Ed. Dowd marred his otherwise good record by an unfortunate muffed fly, which was directly responsible for the first five runs secred by the Tigers. His batting was the redeeming feature of Georgetown's game, but his comrades were unable to live up to the pace set.

An illustration of how hungry the people are for baseball was the large attendance with the thermometer away down and the wind cutting and cold. There were at least cutting and coid. Incre were at least seventy-five ladies present, and many of them kept warm by joining in the stamping which was pretry general among the males. One enthusiastic iemanc admirer of Georgetown displayed the college colors of blue and gray and also encased one small land in a huge catcher's mit. She became tired after Princeton had taken the lead and busied herself in the effort to keep warm.

ton had taken the lead and busied herself in the effort to keep warm.

It was not Carmody's fault the game was lost, as he pitched good ball, and, with decent support, would have won the contest. George and Ed. Mahoney played a good fielding game, as did Cotter and McGrath. Sullivan was next to useless in right field, while Pat Carlon lost a chance to make a fine play. Harley had four errors, and was very unfortunate in each costing a run. For the Tigers both Hitzrot and Altman pitched well, the latter coming into the game in the fifth inning. King played an elegant game at second, while both the Wards showed to advantage, Gunter looked after third-game at second, while both the Wards showed to advantage. Gunter looked after third-base in fine style and also batted well. "Doggle" Trenchard was lucky in twice geting to first on errors of Harley.

Georgetown would have secored in the opening inning if either Cotter or Carmody could have hit the ball outside the diamond, as Princeton made two fielding errors which did not prove costly. In the second inning Dowd lost a golden chance for a run when he tried to get home on a three-bagger with nobody out. Directly alterward George Mahoney hit safely, but it was too late. It was honey hit safely, but it was too late. It was in the last half of the third inning that the Tigers bunched a few hits, and the George-towns threw away the game by bunching four

P. Ward led off with a grounder to Harley, F. Ward set on with a grounder to narely, who fumbled. Hitzroat struck out, while Ward stole second. It was at this juncture King sent a short fly to center field, which Dowd missed, and also the chance to complete a double play. Ward scored on the error, and then Payne and W. D. Harley made a flst of Trenehard's bit Sullivan let a grounder get away. ard's hit, Suilivan let a grounder get away from him, and when the snow had stopped falling Princeton had five full-grown runs to the sixth, when two tallies resulted, and the faithful adherents of the local team were given a chance to vent some of their super-fluous wind in college cries. Singles by Hariy and Sullivan and an error by P. Ward did the business, aided by Cotter's long fly to right. This raily did not last, the wever, and Georgetown failed to add to its score.

The Princitonians piled up three more runs in the sixth on a base on bulls to Gunster, singles by P. Ward and Altman, three stolen bases, and Carmody's wild pitch. They garnered three additional in the seventh on singles by Gunster and P. Ward and errors by Harles and F. Machan. They made it as Harley and E. Mahoney. They made it an even dozen by scoring another in the eighth on Payne's hit and Carmody's wild throw. The score:

New York, March 26.-It is understood among certain sporting men to-day that a sixround bout has been arranged between Jack McAuliffe and Stanton Abbott, to take place in this city about April 15. New York, March 26,-The very general mpression which now prevails that the Presient will veto the seigniorage bill had the effect of strengthening the Wall street markets to-day and undoubtedly checked the bear impulses of those operators who take the short side of the market on the slightest provocation. The decline to sterling exchange rates was also an element of strength in the speculative situation, inasmuch as it removed all likelihood of gold shipments for the present. At the opening of business on the Stock Exchange a generally firm tone prevailed, and the first prices made were in the main a small fraction higher than the closing figures of

The Kids and Vets found it too cold yester Manager Schmelz has not yet heard from Pitcher Maul.

Dick Harley evidently is not at home at short field. If the weather is milder to-day a game will be played at National park.

Carter and Dowd will be the opposing pitchers in to-day's Yale-Georgetown contest.

Phil King delighted his Washington friends by his fine playing at second base. Manager Outerbridge Horsey, jr., was not pleased with the playing of Harley in the game with Princeton.

GREAT WORK AND GREAT SUCCESS

Vital Magnetism Cures When All Else

Fails.

Should anyone doubt the really wonderful cures now being wrought in our midst they would only have to pay a visit to that greatest of all living Magnetie Specialists, Dr. Damon, at 608 Twellth street northwest, and listen to the reports made of remarkable cures by the people waiting to see him. Seated in the large parlors yesterday were many who had come long distances to see this famous man. Among them were ministers, merchants, and farmers. One reverend gentieman had come from Illinois; he told how a sister of his had been cured, and how he, after trying over a dozen physicians of his own town, as well as in Chicago, without any benefit, came here and placed himself under this treatment that has made for Dr. Damon a reputation for skill that but few enjoy. He said, I am now well and return to-morrow to my western home. Another told of his wife being cured of rheumatism. He had spent over $1,000 with other physicians without relief, but she has been cured perfectly in less than five weeks. I am now under treatment myself, said he, for a serious liver and kidney trouble that has baffled the skill of five other physicians. Already I feel like a new man, and I have been treated less than two weeks. The doctor is in daily consultation with patients have been treated less than two weeks. The dector is in daily consultation with patients from 10 to 12, 2 to 5, and 7 to 8, while his several associates are kept constantly at work. Dr. Damon has every facility at his new offices, 608 Twelfth street, for treatment. The large reception and treatment rooms, together with a fine laboratory, are well fitted and furnished, both for the convenience of physician as well as patient. Wednesday, March 28, at 2,30, the doctor will give his last free lecture and clinic to ladies at Builders Exchange Hall until fall. The work at the private offices, however, will continue throughout the season as usual. have been treated less than two weeks. The

LEE AND HIS SOLDIERS. Curious Incident Related by a Confedcrate Veteran.

[From Youth's Companion.] Gen. Robert E. Lee, the Confederate con nander in the civil war, was almost idolized by his soldiers. A curious incident illustrating both the love of the men and Lee's courtesy toward them is related by a Confederate

Not long after the surrender, when rumors were abroad that Lee was likely to be exe-cuted for treason, the general was living at his home in Blehmond. One day a Confed-erate soldier in the ragged remnants of a butternut uniform came up to Gen. Lee as he sat on the veranda of his house and saluted very respectfully. The general saluted in return, and asked the man what he wanted. "General," said he, "there's lifty more of us fellows round the corner." "Indeed! Why don't they come up to the house."

"Too ragged, general. They're raggeder'n me. Now, I'll tell you what we're after, general. We hear you're to be tried for treason. Now, we've got a mountain hollow 'way up there, where nobody can't get. There's a right smart of good land in it, and if you'll come along we'll work the land for anything at the land too. if you'll come along we'll work the land for you and take good care of you, and you shan't never suffer want."

Lee was much affected. He called the rest of the ragged veterans into the house, and, while he told them that it would not be proper for him to hide in the mountains or to proper for him to hide in the mountains or to seek escape in any way from whatever might befall him, he was very grateful to them for their offer.

They went saily back to their mountain hollow, but soon afterward understood that they were free to take up the ordinary em-ployments of life among their fellows, and that none were to die or lose their liberty for their part in the war.

A Story About Colorado Bears. The following story comes from Colorado "Two hunters, coming to the edge of a giade, saw sixty-five bears in consultation. One was lying bound with grapovines, two were watching over him, and another was making a speech. Pres ntly the big bear stopped talking, and all the sixty-three bears growled an assent. Some of the bears threw a grapevine loop about the erring bear's neck, led him to a limb, threw the vine over, and six big bears walked away with it. In ten minutes the bear was dead, and the others went solthe bear was dead, and the others went sel-emnly away. The hunters secured the lymbed bearskin without a bullet hole in it, by way of proof."

Nicaragua Canal Scheme The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations is preparing to take up the question of the nization of the Nicaragua Canal Company, and the subcommittee of this committee, consisting of Senators Morgan, Gray, Turple, Frye, and Dolph, will meet to-day for the purpose of considering the question. President Hiscock, of the company, is now in the city and will probably be before the committee. It is understood that Senator Morgan's bill will be used as a basis for the proceedings of the committee.
